Dear Silvia Naef, this is an interesting but a highly complicated topic you working on. I am teaching in Helsinki and Stockholm between February 28 and March 9. It is a pity that it will not be possible to meet with you in Istanbul. It may be interesting to note for you however that I am founding a contemporary art museum and a contemporary art center complete with archives+library, two distinct and separate institutions both of which will open in late September 2001. If you can change your travel plans, I would be more than glad to meet with you. In case a modification is possible, please note that I will be leaving the country again on March 13.

Sincerely,

VASIF KORTUN
